Restaurant Workers Will Attend Parley

Restaurant and tavern personnel in Torrance are invited to attend the Food Handling and Sanitation institute planned by the California State department of education and the Los Angeles County health department to be held in the banquet room of the Mermaid Cafe, Pier avenue and the Strand, Hermosa Beach. Preliminary plans for this institute were made at a conference between Vernon Sheblak, bureau of business education of the State department of education, Raymond W. Jones, director of adult education, Redondo Union High School, and David W. Colfelt, area chief sanitarian of the Torrance health district. The course will consist of three two-hour sessions. Each of the three classes will be repeated in order to give the restaurant management and employees an opportunity to attend the course and still maintain a staff in their places of business. The three two-hour classes will be Tuesday, Feb. 10, 17 and 24, and Wednesday, Feb. 11, 18 and 25, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Although owners, managers and personnel of restaurants, cafes and cocktail rooms are being notified of the institute by personal calls from the sanitarians of the district, all food handlers, such as grocery and meat market personnel, are invited.

The Torrance Institute is the 13th one in Los Angeles county. The others held in the county have proved highly successful both from the restaurant viewpoint as well as that of public health service, Colfelt said.

STATE INCOME TAX EXAMINER TO BE IN TORRANCE SOON

A representative of the Franchise Tax Commissioner, State Income Tax Division, will be in Torrance on March 3 and 4 to accept filings and assist those needing information on state income taxes, according to Blaine Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The examiner will have offices at the Chamber headquarters, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on those days.

Health Office Saturday Closing Legal-Smiley

Contrary to recent reports, it is legal for the Torrance health center offices to remain closed Saturdays.

This announcement was made by Dr. Henry C. Smiley, district health officer, following receipt of a copy of a letter from County Counsel Harold W. Kennedy to the Board of Supervisors in which the Counsel expresses such opinion.

According to Kennedy, the last State legislature amended the Government code to read: "In counties having a population in excess of 400,000, county officers shall keep their offices open for the transaction of business during such hours and on such days as are fixed by the board of supervisors by ordinance."

The ordinance passed by the Los Angeles county supervisors calling for the closing of County offices on Saturdays became effective Dec. 4, 1947. The County Counsel was asked for a clarification of the Act following an adverse decision of the Attorney General regarding a smaller county.

In case of emergency, service may be obtained by calling the County telephone number in Los Angeles, Mutual 9211, the district health officer said.

Photos Shown At Museum

Camera devotees and students in schools studying photography are taking a keen interest in the Seventeen American Photographers' Exhibition at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park, according to James H. Breasted Jr., director of the institution.

However, the exhibition is not just for students in photography. It is one everybody enjoys, a wonderful collection of works in photography, a diversified exhibit ranging from documentary studies of Chicago negroes to glamorous portraits of famous celebrities. It will continue to Feb. 15.
